Recommends Voluntary Guidelines

Mc Would Halt Price Controls

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — George McGovern said today "the economy belongs to the people not the government" and proposed doing away with the wage-price controls established by President Nixon.

In their place, McGovern said he would impose a system of voluntary wage-price guidelines and presidential authority to "reverse flagrant violations."

On another front in his bid to replace Nixon in the White House, Democratic presidential candidate McGovern was challenging Nixon to come out of "hiding" in the White House and campaign in public.

McGovern said in a speech prepared for labor leaders in Portland that Nixon's economic policies are not curbing inflation. McGovern said his own policy "must be linked to an all-out effort to achieve full employment ... It would take its place in the anti-inflation arsenal along with a shift in budget priorities from inflationary military spending to more-productive civilian purposes."

Although few details of the plan were made available in advance of his speech, aides said McGovern would rely in part on the "jawboning" technique—using pressure to bring wage-price violators into line.

McGovern said a White House review board to advise the president and muster public price and wage increases should be established.

While it was Nixon's economic policies under attack by McGovern today, it was the President's campaign style that has continually drawn criticism in recent days.

"I know he's hiding," the Democratic presidential candidate said Thursday. "He's afraid of people. He's afraid to take his case out onto the public platform. He's afraid to go on television in joint appearances."

To a late-night Waterbury, Conn., crowd estimated by police at 18,000 and by newsmen at closer to 10,000—Kennedy named several members of Nixon's Cabinet and White House staff who have been speaking against McGovern and for Nixon.

"They say they're surrogate candidates for Nixon," Kennedy told the rally at the conclusion of 3½ days of campaigning with McGovern. "But you know what they really are: elephants walking around the ring holding the tail of the animal in front of them."

Meantime, Kennedy said, "Richard Nixon's nowhere in sight."

Youthful Voters At Albany Rally

By MATT SPIRENG

ALBANY — Democratic Presidential hopeful Sen. George McGovern drew a crowd of predominantly youthful voters at a rally on the Capitol steps in Albany Thursday, but whether or not he will get their votes remains to be seen in November.

The under-30 generation outnumbered their seniors at the noon rally by at least 20 to one, by conservative estimate. But the oldsters in the crowd seemed to be more firmly and decisively behind the McGovern bid for the Presidency when interviewed by The Freeman.

Busloads of college, high school and even elementary school students showed up to greet Sen. McGovern and Sen. Edward Kennedy, who has joined the campaign trail to give the McGovern-Shriver ticket a seemingly much needed boost.

One student, a sophomore at the State University College at Albany, told The Freeman that campus opinion was more solid behind McGovern in the past than it is at present. He indicated that McGovern's apparent vacillation on some issues has resulted in a less than wholehearted attitude toward him on the part of the students. A further result could be the refusal to vote among the younger population, he said. He was, nevertheless, staunchly opposed to the reelection of President Nixon, calling the present government "quasi-fascist."

An Albany woman at the rally said she felt the major issue in this campaign is the end of the Vietnam war. "I want to see them stop this war," she said, adding that she has a 14-year-old son whom she does not want to see drafted when he grows older. She said she will definitely vote for McGovern in November.

Another Albany woman, who was spending her lunch hour at the rally, said she felt peace and economics are the main campaign issues. "We should take care of the little people, not the big man," she told The Freeman. She, too, said her vote will go to McGovern.

A 17-year-old Albany area high school student at the rally said he didn't know who he would vote for if he could vote. He was there with a government class from his school.

But no matter what they said as individuals, the crowd as a whole was very enthusiastic, causing a great crush of bodies at the barriers nearest the podium as people attempted to get a closer look at the man who may become President of the United States.

Among the numerous banners displayed by the crowd were those saying "Nixon had ITT," "Bring Credibility Back," "Bring Us Together, George," and "Only a few 'Reelect the President' bumper stickers were in evidence at the rally, and no one was heard to jeer the candidate as he spoke.

However, despite statements by many individuals who said they had come to see both McGovern and Kennedy, applause and cheers seemed to be more pronounced when Kennedy spoke than when McGovern took over at the podium.

A long wait in rain and threatening rain may have caught up with some people, however, by the time the candidate began to speak. One woman said she had been at the rally site for over two hours.

"We're all wet, but glad you're not," read one hastily scrawled banner which was held up for the candidate to see when he arrived at the Capitol after a rain-delayed flight to Albany County Airport.

Activist Appeals to Nixon; South Viets Seize Citadel

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—American antiwar activist David Dellinger appealed to President Nixon today to ban the use of freed American prisoners of war to train other U.S. pilots lest the practice jeopardize any future releases of American prisoners of war from North Vietnam.

Dellinger and a delegation of seven other Americans arrived for an overnight stop before proceeding to Hanoi Saturday to accept the release of three American POWs.

Dellinger said, "If these men are used to promote, plan and guide future attacks there will be an end to releases."

Dellinger and Cora Weiss both said it was their intention to return with the released POWs as soon as possible—perhaps within a week—but Weiss said their travel plans have to depend on safety factors because of U.S. air raids on North Vietnam.

Minnie Lee Gartley of Dunedin, Fla., whose son Navy Lt. Markham L. Gartley, 28, is among the three to be freed, told newsmen that the closer she got to North Vietnam the more sympathy she felt for other families whose loved ones were not returning.

"Three families are being reunited," she said. "I wish there were more."

Olga Charles of San Diego, Calif., wife of Navy Lt. Norris A. Charles, 27, who will also be freed by the North Vietnamese, said "I just feel like a million dollars, knowing that I'm getting so close to Norris."

Mrs. Gartley was with six other persons including Mrs. Dellinger and Cora Weiss Charles, Dellinger and the Rev. William Sloane Coffin of Yale University, Princeton University professor Richard Falk, Mrs. Weiss and the Rev. Harry Bury.

Meanwhile, in Saigon, South Vietnamese marines who stormed Quang Tri City's Citadel

Thursday inched through heavy Communist artillery barrages today to wrest all but a small corner of the fortress from North Vietnamese forces, military spokesmen said.

UPI reporter Ted Kurrus reporting from Quang Tri said the government troops controlled "more than 75 per cent" of the 50-acre Citadel. Field officers predicted the marines would control the entire complex by Saturday.

"Nothing short of an act of God could get us out of that Citadel now," an allied officer told Kurrus. "For all intents and purposes we've got it, but there is still some street cleaning left to do before the celebrations."

In Paris, Henry A. Kissinger is meeting again today with Le Duc Tho of the North Vietnamese Politburo, the U.S. Embassy announced. But the Embassy refused to say where or when they would meet or even if Kissinger had arrived in Paris from London.

It did announce that the meeting was the 17th secret talk on the Vietnam war between President Nixon's national security adviser and the North Vietnamese leader. And said Xuan Thuy, the head of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks, would also attend.

County to Buy River Parcel for Park

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON — In a surprise move, the Ulster County Legislature voted Thursday night to take a six-month option on a 92-acre choice piece of Hudson River waterfront property in the Town of Ulster and to purchase it for $270,000 for use as a county park.

The parcel which borders on "pure" water is known as St. George's Children's Camp and is to be purchased from St. George's Episcopal Church in New York City. The option is for $27,000.

Action on the proposal came swiftly. The Legislators went to visit the property Thursday afternoon which is in the northernmost part of Town of Ulster where it joins the town of Sagerties along the river.

All agreed that it would seem to fill the criteria for a county park. Later the same afternoon at the 4 p.m. session of the board, County Planning Director Herbert Hekler suggested that the legislature consider four sites in the county for parks, including the St. George property.

During a brief 10:30 p.m. recess of the legislature after most of the night's business had been transacted, the board reconvened and voted unanimously to the option agreement, the purchasing option and to apply for matching state and federal grants for acquisition of the property.

In other business during the discussion-packed, lengthy session of the Legislature the board voted 32 to 0 to study the possibility of building a new court house, defeated a resolution increasing judge's salaries, defeated an amendment calling for a reward for information concerning fatal attacks on police officers and agreed to license second-hand dealers.

A move to table the resolution calling for the court house study was defeated 25 to 7. The board then voted 32-0 for the study. One legislator, Robert Kuhlmann (R-Dist. 10) was absent due to his reportedly becoming involved in an automobile accident on the way to the meeting.

The defeat of the resolution calling for an increase in judges' salaries commensurate with state aid was for all practical purposes merely a demonstration against the raising of the salaries because the salary increase in question is mandated by state law.

The resolution called for an increase of $1,075 annually bringing the salaries for the County Judge, Surrogate and Family Court Judge to $31,075.

The measure was defeated 18 to 13 with one abstention by Alex J. Nirenberg (D-Dist. 10).

The attempt to provide a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons attempting to kill or killing a police officer was defeated 18 to 14. A similar measure before the Legislature during the past year was referred to the Judicial and Legal Committee.

The feasibility study to determine means to control resale of items obtained through burglaries met with no opposition.

The board also agreed to request designation of Ulster as Title One area and appoint an economic development committee in order to be eligible for federal funds for public works and economic development.

The Recreation and Youthable purchase in the future—studying recreational needs of one of the Binnewater Lakes in the county for the past year, Rosendale and a future site in Family Court Judge to $31,075.

works and economic development chasing the county park property for a number of reasons.

The Legislature authorized reportedly among them the fact that a trailer park developer from New Jersey had expressed interest in acquiring the property.

The property is located about two miles north of the Kingston Rhinecliff Bridge and is located off County Road 60, the Snyder (R-Dist. 1) asked that the resolution be withdrawn, property, according to Hekler, it has been operated for many years as a children's camp by St. George Church.

The proposal was submitted by Hekler but also recommended three other sites for possible purchase in the future—studying recreational needs of one of the Binnewater Lakes in the county for the past year, Rosendale and a future site in Family Court Judge to $31,075.

Arms Control Pact Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a U.S.-Soviet five-year agreement to limit nuclear arms, and called in advance for any permanent treaty to provide numerical equality in intercontinental atomic weaponry.

The 88-2 vote Thursday sent the amended resolution of approval to a conference with the House, which passed it Aug. 18 without the "equality" language.

The agreement, and a companion treaty limiting defensive weapons in the United States and the Soviet Union, was signed by President Nixon in Moscow May 26. The defensive treaty was ratified by the Senate Aug. 3.

School Boards Association Favor Legislative Program

The New York State School Boards Association is in support of a recommendation in favor of a new way of meeting the costs of local education, according to a statement made before the New York State Regents Conference in Albany this week by Ben Miller of Ellenville, the school boards association president.

Miller said his association would support the New York State Educational Conference Board's 1973 Legislative Program, which will soon be announced.

Part of this program is a new state aid formula for local schools, with a state school property tax, a flat state grant program, and an equalization program.

According to Miller's address, the conference board will recommend a state school property tax collected by the counties using their existing tax procedures and machinery. The recommended rate would be $1 per $1,000 of full value in 1973-74.

Miller said each county's tax revenues would be balanced by state revenues, "so that a county of average wealth will derive 50 per cent of its revenues from this tax, and 50 per cent from the state."

Poorer counties would receive a greater portion of state aid and wealthier counties less state aid," continued Miller.

The conference board will also recommend a flat state grant program providing $310 per pupil to all districts raising the required tax rate for aid.

Miller said further details of the plan would be made known "in the very near future."

Miller said the conference board proposes, and the school boards support, increased aid to districts with a large proportion of disadvantaged students. Miller said the full details of the school board's legislative program had not yet been settled, but he gave other areas where the school boards would make recommendations.

In the matter of the city school districts, which can become short of funds when they run up against constitutional tax limits, Miller said his association was in favor of removing the constitutional limits, and letting the limits for city school districts be a statutory matter subject to the judgment of the Legislature.

The association, Miller said, favors replacing the present teacher tenure law with "more flexible alternatives." Miller said the school boards would provide contractual security, but require periodic review of the teacher's performance.

According to Miller, this change in legislation is needed because the Taylor Law allows teachers to negotiate terms and conditions of employment.

The association will also recommend that permanent legislation be adopted requiring the state to pay all interest incurred by local boards because of state rollovers in aid payments.

Also to be recommended by the association, Miller said, will be increased weighting for special education expenses, closer defining of the areas of negotiation under the Taylor Law, and a proportional allocation of funds received by the state under any Federal revenue sharing program.

Miller concluded his statement by saying, "It is clear that the public schools in our state, indeed in the nation, are confronted by crises. We in the New York State School Boards Association do not despair for we are confident that the problems before us are solvable."

DA to Address Seminar

NEW PALTZ — The Robert A. Taft Institute of Government Seminar, being held during this fall's semester at the State University College at New Paltz, will begin Saturday with Ulster County District Attorney Francis Vogt the first speaker.

The seminar is made possible by a grant of $8,050 from the Robert A. Taft Institute of Government, made to the Faculty of Education at the college.

Some 40 elementary and secondary school teachers of social studies will be participating in the seminar. Part of each seminar session is to be devoted to developing techniques for teaching political science units for classroom use.

The Taft Seminar's title is "The Reality of Politics: Its Implication for Curriculum Development (K-12)."

According to a Faculty of Education spokesman, the seminar will be an integral part of the Faculty of Education project concerned with the planning and preparation of educational personnel, recently funded by the Rockefeller

Brothers Fund. Vogt will be speaking on "The United States Constitution: A Framework for Contemporary Politics."

Among other topics future seminars will deal with will be: The Function of the Two Party System in the United States; New York State Politics — An Overview; and The Nominating Process — Selecting Presidential Candidates.

Among the many prominent people appearing at the seminars will be: the Hon. John Kingston, majority leader of the New York State Assembly; Assemblyman H. Clark Bell; Bell's Democratic challenger Maurice Hinchey; State Sen. Jay Rolison; Congressmen Hamilton Fish Jr. and John Dow; and Albert Shanker, president of the New York State Federation of Teachers.

The seminars carry three graduate credits in education or political science. Those desiring their credits in political science must complete a research paper on a topic in political science.

Levitt Suggests Greater Expense Share

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt says New York City pays less than a third of the actual cost of housing its prisoners at a state institution and suggests the city contribute a greater share of the expense.

The suggestion was described as tentative, pending a review of costs at all facilities housing prisoners convicted in city courts.

Levitt's suggestion came in conjunction with an audit of financial procedures and practices at Eastern New York Correctional Facility at Napanoch, issued Thursday. The institution has housed only New York City short-term offenders since 1970 after it was converted from an institution for mentally defective juvenile delinquents.

Under terms of the agreement between the city and state, New York City pays the state $5 a day for each inmate. But Levitt said the cost per inmate at Napanoch is actually $15.86 per day, including costs of payroll fringe benefits.

The housing agreement was reached to alleviate overcrowding at the city-operated New York Correctional Facility for men on Riker's Island.

"If costs at the facilities substantially exceed the reimbursement rate," said Levitt, "the Correctional Service Department should initiate action to amend the law to establish a more equitable reimbursement to the state."

The audit also suggested that New York City provide better background material on each prisoner to help in the rehabilitation, and to send prisoners to Napanoch whose prison terms amount to at least a year.

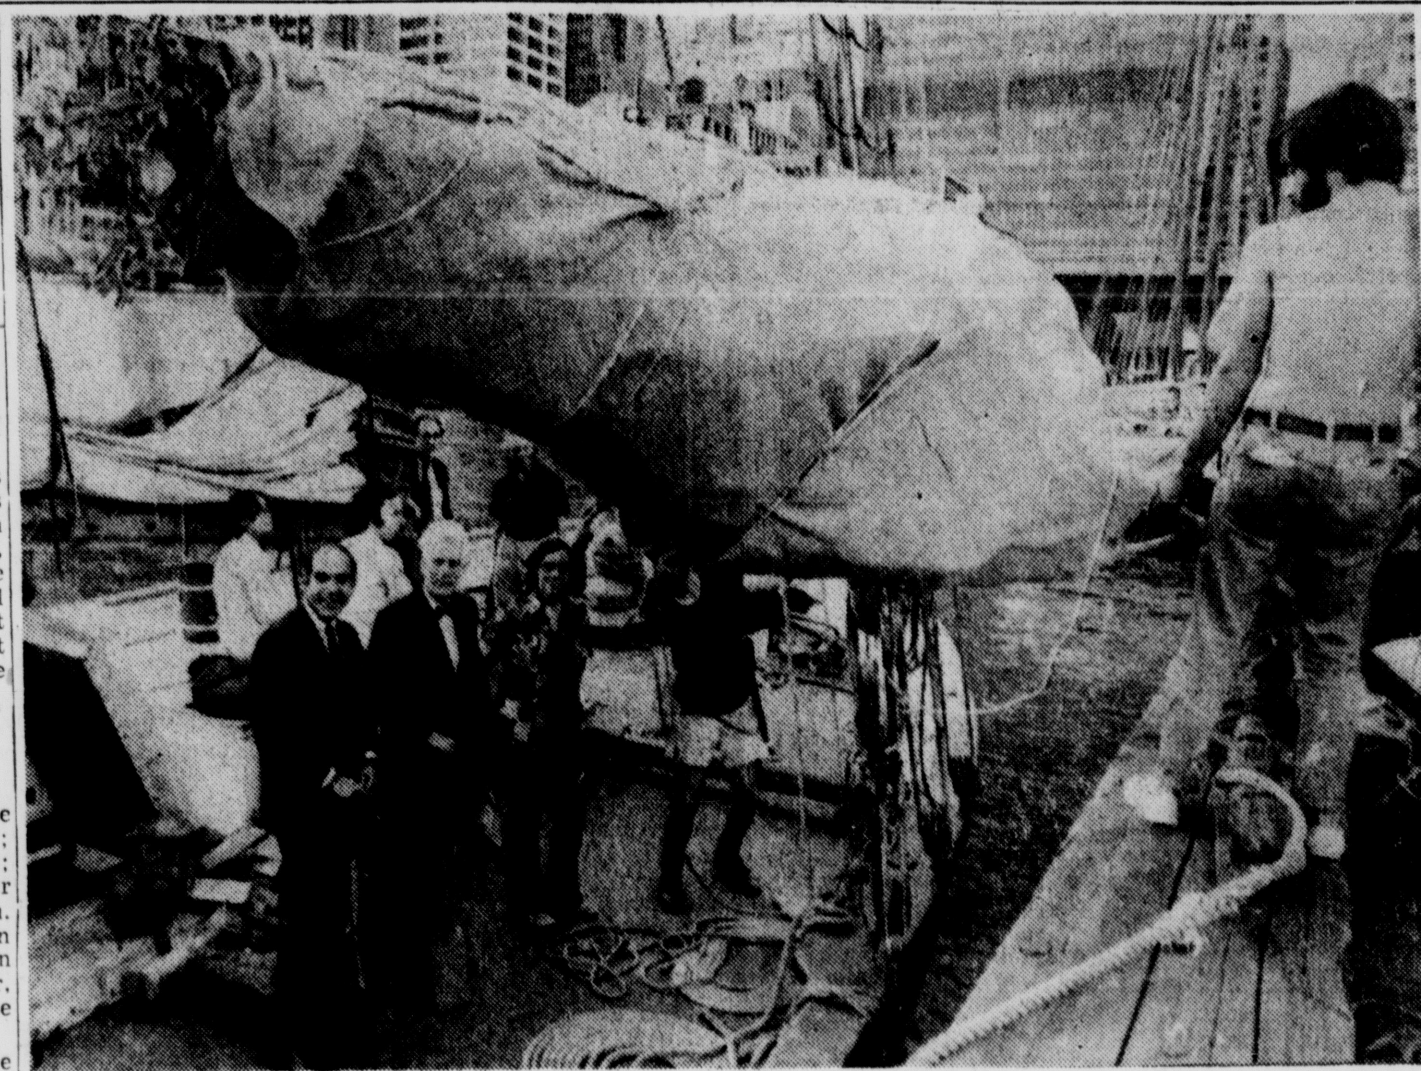

The prison cares for about 600 to 1,000 inmates.

Paltz Teachers File Charges

NEW PALTZ Teachers Association has filed bad faith bargaining charges against the New Paltz Board of Education. The charges, filed with the Public Employment Relations Board in Albany, maintain that the school board has refused to direct its agents to negotiate in good faith and is attempting to destroy the collective bargaining process. The teachers have already agreed to curtail their participation in non-teaching duties because of the failure of the two sides to negotiate a satisfactory agreement. Now, it appears that the teachers may "accelerate" their protests against the school board. Ron Noelle, chief negotiator for the teachers, told The Freeman today that it was "premature" to release details of their plans now, but added that "a line of action" would be proposed at Tuesday's meeting of the Teachers Association. There has yet to be any public announcement that teachers are considering a strike. The teachers' contract expired June 30. After negotiations, mediation and factfinding failed to resolve the dispute, the Board of Education decreed a legislative settlement on the teachers. Since that time, informal talks have been held, but to no avail. The formal charges filed by the teachers contend that the school board, through its refusal to negotiate, has made a "mockery" of the law, perpetrated a "hoax" upon the district and "deliberately interfered with, restrained and coerced public employees in the exercise of their rights and are deliberately dominating and interfering with the administration of the Association." Mrs. Joan Bivona, president of the Board of Education, said today that school board members have been advised by their attorney not to comment on the association's charges.

Florida Fugitive Seized

PINE HILL later today before U.S. Commissioner John B. Garrity in Poughkeepsie on a federal count that charged him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. Lisman, who was in charge of a detail of State Police BCI officers, said Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, and deputy sheriffs headed by Investigator Harold T. Bowers, raided the Friendship Manor in Pine Hill and took Battista into custody on the federal charge. According to Lisman, Battista tried to secrete a package when the officers arrested him. The package was examined and the contents found was reportedly more than 13 ounces of cocaine valued by Lisman at about $10,000. A small quantity of marijuana also was seized. Battista, a Cuban, was turned over to FBI agents following his arrest. Lisman said a warrant will be filed with the FBI charging Battista with a felony count of criminal possession of dangerous drugs. Lisman noted that the man was wanted in Dade County, Florida, in connection with a robbery in which he allegedly participated with three other men, who, with Battista, reportedly were dressed as police officers at the time of the holdup.

Discuss UCCC Controversy

STONE RIDGE Students and administrators met at the Stone Ridge campus of Ulster County Community College Thursday in hopes of resolving the differences that led to Wednesday's suspension of the campus newspaper, magazine and radio and television stations. The four student-operated communications medias, however, remain under administrative suspension. The matter will be discussed further at Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Directors of the UCCC Association.

Ban Request Is Successful

ROSENDALE Residents of Merriehew Street in Tillson were successful in getting heavy traffic banned from their street at Wednesday night's regular meeting of the town board. Following complaints from a delegation of about 10 residents of Merriehew Street concerning truck and bus traffic on the narrow street, the town board passed a resolution banning thru truck traffic on that street. Other than that, according to Supervisor Gerard DeFelice, Juhl said today. The meeting things were "routine." Word has been tentatively rescheduled for Sept. 27.

Meeting Cancelled

Thursday night's scheduled Rosendale Village Board meeting was cancelled due to the absence of two of its members, village clerk Joyce Juhl said today. The meeting was tentatively rescheduled for Sept. 27.

Richard Ruth of Grandview Terrace, Hurley is heading the volunteers for the drive. Boy Scouts will be at the depot. Anyone interested in assisting may call Ruth or Mrs. Van Darrow.

In other recycling efforts, the Town of Rochester has purchased its own 40 foot enclosed trailer for a permanent recycling center at the Accord sanitary landfill area. Hours for the county recycling drive will be 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Paper, glass and aluminum will be collected.

Session Slated

KINGSTON, N.Y. (AP)—The New York State Commission called "Collapse of Nonpublic Education: Myth or Reality?" has tentatively agreed to appear.

An election of state officers for the coming year will be held in conjunction with the conference. Charles H. Sumner of Rochester is the current state chairman.

Bishop S. B. Chappell of 255 East Strand, Kingston, will head a delegation of members of the African Union Methodist Church who will attend the third annual New York State Conference on Church and State.

The conference, to be held Oct. 14 at the State University College at Brockport, is sponsored by the New York State Commission on Church and State.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 15, 1972

WASHINGTON — A fascinating memo, buried for four years in White House files, indicates a New York Times editorial may have started Vice President Spiro Agnew's famous feud with the press.

The editorial, published the last week of the 1968 campaign, accused Agnew of improper dealings with wealthy land speculators.

The year before the election as Governor of Maryland, charged the Times, he "joined with these businessmen in purchasing a tract of land on the probable approach route of a new, parallel span of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge. As Governor, he approved this route. In response to public criticism, Governor Agnew later sold his share of the land." The editorial also accused him of lying about the inheritance of some bank stock.

The Times, normally a most reliable and responsible newspaper, got the facts twisted. Actually, Agnew signed away his interest in the land before his election, directed that it be sold at no profit to himself and, in any case, did not approve the route of the Bay Bridge. Nor could the Times prove he had lied about his inheritance.

Sources close to the Vice President tell us his hostility toward the press grew out of the harsh coverage he received during the 1968 campaign. The "turning point," agree these sources, was the New York Times' attack upon him.

"This was the straw that broke Agnew's patience," recalled a campaign aide. Agnew was stewing over the Times editorial, said the aide.

when a message came over the teletype from the Nixon camp. The message, dated October 29, 1968, reached Agnew on the campaign trail in Florida. It was addressed to his campaign manager, George White, from speechwriter Pat Buchanan.

Buchanan Memo

"You might score some real yardage down in the South with a good blast at the New York Times," urged Buchanan. "Down there they are the essence of the New York, ultra-liberal, left-wing establishment press that has beaten on the South for years. Suggestions:

"1. The Governor tear hell out of them for deliberate and vicious libel, demand an apology, ask if they are 'man enough to give it.'

"2. The Governor then say that the Times is squalling because RN (Richard Nixon) tore hell out of them. That the Times is willing to play low-level dirty politics, but they belly-ache when they have to pay the price. Then use Truman's quote, 'If the editorial board of the New York Times can't stand the heat, maybe they ought to get out of the kitchen.' They can dish it out, but they can't take it."

"3. The Governor could needle hell out of them by saying after his blast and demand for an apology that 'actually those fellows who write editorials for the Times aren't so bad. They just put their foot in their mouth a little too often.'"

Agnew is a stubbornly proud man. He struck back at the New York Times. Later, he took up the cudgels again, as Vice President, against the entire "liberal eastern establishment press." His first speeches against the press were written by Pat Buchanan.

Headlines and Footnotes

Despite President Nixon's hard-sell drive for Jewish votes, he has affronted one of the nation's most powerful rabbinical groups. The New York Board of Rabbis invited both presidential candidates to speak to them. George McGovern responded quickly, but not even an acknowledgement has come back from Nixon. A Nixon campaign aide told us last month's invitation is "still being considered." . . . Coca Cola vice president Ovid Davis has urged all members of the Coke family to lobby for their bottling interests during the 1972 congressional campaigns. His letter to Coke officials quoted the famous Greek orator Pericles whom Davis said lived 2,000 years ago. Davis has annoyed congressmen and historians alike: Pericles lived more than 2400 years ago.

Phil and Sue Long of Bellevue, Wash., baffled by the ways of the Internal Revenue Service, asked to see the index of its manual on procedures and policies. The IRS charged $460.75 for photocopying. When the IRS wants taxpayers' records, it simply demands them. If the taxpayer squawks, the IRS slaps him with a subpoena. . . . Assistant Agriculture Secretary Richard Lyng called us "ridiculous" for criticizing how his department had schemed with tomato growers to put "gassed green" tomatoes, ripened with ethylene gas on America's tables. Now that the tomato season is here, housewives can compare their own garden tomatoes with the pale, tasteless products they have been buying from the supermarkets.

The Treasury's Fred Hickman recently wrote editors around the country that we were wrong in criticizing the Treasury and auto firms for taking too much time to refund 1971 excise taxes. He spoke of the Administration's "proud" record. Almost nine months have passed, and we're still getting letters for car buyers asking us how they can get their refunds. We suggest they write to Fred Hickman at the U.S. Treasury Department. . . . Melvin Belli, the famed West Coast "King of Torts," is planning to set up a law office in Washington.

WASHINGTON — With seven full weeks until that mystically unique ceremony of private and public wills, one contradictory conclusion looks like granite:

McGovern can't win, but Nixon can lose.

Not even perfect campaigning by McGovern can recapture the ground he has surrendered to his own ineptitude. The enthusiasm he should have ignited among the politically devoted has been smothered by soggy decision-making and often, by no decisions at all.

The Nixon campaign, in suspended animation, seems like a perfect computerized Swiss watch. It looks so handsomely fashioned, so intricate. Ah, but it also seems so fragile.

Nixon can lose because of two durable legacies left to Americans voters from the 1960s: VOLATILITY AND CYNICISM.

Volatility can burn up 30 British Thermal Units in the Gallup poll in a month's time. The electorate is combustible because of its cynicism. All the distrust of government evoked by George Wallace and others hasn't disappeared. It may be bottled up in that Gallup margin.

Maybe people are pulling the pollster's leg. After all, why should Gallup's credibility escape the fate that has befallen government, the church, the press, the automobile, the Olympics? The voters weren't asked, "If you really took all this stuff seriously, for whom would you vote?" or "After the World Series, before the Super Bowl and if you stop and think about it, are you really in love with Richard Nixon?"

Distrust and cynicism are fed by chicanery, and on the Republican horizon Watergate is still a cloud no bigger than a man's burglar tool.

Clark MacGregor, the big, open-faced Minnesotan who is director of the Committee for the Re-election of the President, went on "Face the Nation" this week and said a remarkable thing:

"We're sure that people in authority will be exonerated by not being indicted."

That statement was reminiscent of the platform of the Hon. Frank Sedita, who ran for mayor of Buffalo not long ago as "the proven honest candidate," waving reports from several grand juries and the FBI, none of whom were able to nab him.

So the noble theme of his aspect of the Nixon campaign seems to be: When corruption is all around thee, cleave unto thy bosom the man who hasn't been caught.

MacGregor also said that President Nixon "will travel the country very extensively" and professed ignorance as to why Democrats are so eager to see that happen as soon as possible.

It is an odd campaign whose success—as defined by several of its strategists—depends on keeping the candidate locked in his office. If the President starts attacking McGovern too much, the whole delicate mechanism of the campaign may self-destruct, some Republicans fear.

MacGregor's overreaction to Democratic charges on Watergate—"scurrilous . . . grossly libelous . . . particularly vicious . . ."—indicates that overreaction might happily fuel the embers of volatility and distrust.

Only a year or two ago most working politicians agreed that incumbency was no longer an asset, but a liability. Has the land so overflowed with Nixonian milk and honey that such a judgment is obsolete?

George McGovern may doubt it, as he marches to November with those strange allies, volatility and cynicism.

83.5 Million Working

Two figures about the labor force make monkeys of the statistics. On the one hand, the actual number of persons working in August, based on a survey of households, was 83.5 million, the highest for any month on record. On the other hand, the number unemployed was 4,857,000, a decline of 316,000 but the rate was 5.6 per cent because so many persons were looking for jobs—students and returned veterans especially.

Another view of the picture is that the number of those at work was 2.6 million above August 1971. With a stable work force, this would have pulled the unemployment rate down in half, to a rate closer to 3 per cent. But the work force has burgeoned and the employment rate declined fractionally, instead of plunging down, as the new jobs normally would require. One place the unemployment figure has improved distinctly is among skilled and experienced workers. For example, the unemployment rate for married men was down to 2.6 per cent, the lowest since mid-1970. It is the figure that the new job increase would indicate for the whole work force, had it not run amuck.

These figures indicate that it is the newcomers in the labor force which the economy has not been able to fit into jobs. Assuming that veterans are getting their places in their old jobs, the problem is making jobs for the newcomers. This should be a top project for the new administration. Training for the jobs that are available or will be available is a major requirement to put the nearly 5 million unemployed at work. The country cannot afford a waste of manpower of such proportions, albeit there are more people at work today than ever before.

High Cost of Services

High costs of medical services, which have disturbed so many, are symptomatic of the high cost of professional services in general. C. Jackson Grayson Jr., chairman of the Price Commission, has just warned all who charge fees for their services—lawyers, accountants, architects, engineers and others—that the commission is monitoring their charges and means to hold them in line.

For instance, the Consumer Price Index from June, 1971, to June, 1972, showed a 13 per cent jump in charges for drawing up a will for individuals. This is the only component of legal services in the index and does not necessarily represent a trend in legal fees generally. Nevertheless, the commission fixed a rise of 2.5 per cent as the increase to be allowed across-the-board not alone for legal services but for professional services of all kinds.

The commission curb applies to law firms which employ 60 or more persons. Those are the huge law firms in New York, Washington and other metropolitan cities largely in corporate practice.

For this curb to help the ordinary people, and to be reflected in the consumer price index, it should be made more general, even though enforcement would be difficult. It would be a warning which the consumer himself can use for his own benefit, to monitor charges made for these services.

few years by a favorable trade balance and reduced inflation. The brighter outlook encouraged American officials and bankers here.

MORALS, ROCK SESSION STYLE—

In the Carmi, Illinois, rock festival, it was apparent once more that this country has two kinds of morals—one for the Dante's Inferno of rock scenes; and another for public, every day and night behavior. Toplessness, nudity, public intercourse, uninhibited drug use—all are tolerated in the name of Rock. Are we silly enough to believe that this behavior will not spread and poison every small town and city youth conclave?

BERRY'S WORLD

Senor Zamorano Really a Tiger

Jim Bishop: Reporter

He is a young man with long lashes, hazel eyes, and a Spanish accent. This sounds romantic, but Hugo Zamorano was destined to pit his long brown wavy hair against men, not women. When a man is attractive to men, it is a minus, not a plus.

And yet Senor Zamorano has done a great deal to create a two-way flow of money between Latin America and the United States. Under President John Kennedy, the money flowed only from the U.S. to the great nations to the south, and, under Alanza, it was tagged for certain well-defined projects.

Hugo was a determined boy who never knew his father. The Zamoranos were of Spain, and when the great civil war erupted in 1936, Hugo Sr., as a member of the Spanish diplomatic corps, took a stand with the Loyalist government. This was a losing gambit.

The Franco government won. Senor Zamorano had a wife and two children, a little girl and a two-year-old son. He had to find a refuge. So he sailed as far as he could, and that was to Chile.

There, as a member of the upper class, he tried to make amends for his family. It didn't work out. When the son was still small, the father was killed in an automobile accident. It was a fruitless way to die, because it left Senora Zamorano to provide for two babies.

The young man was handsome and well-mannered. He was courted by the upper class of Chile, but he was not one of them. The rich patronized him. To help his mother, he sold wooden toys and learned to use the wealth to attain his ends.

The Catholic schools of Santiago taught him knowledge and discipline. Boldly, he reached for the things he could not attain socially. He studied law, and studied hard. Hugo found that he had more drive, more ambition than his effete friends.

He received a degree in law from the University of Santiago before the nation was aware of a leftist named Allende. From there, he went to the University of Florida. Language was a difficulty. So he took baby-sitting jobs because he believed that anyone can learn languages quickly from children.

The accent will always be with him. But he can speak and think in English. The harder Hugo worked, the higher his ambition soared. As a lawyer, he specialized in finance and fiscal policy. When he needed a job, he joined Deltac Securities, and asked why it is that money always flowed south, but seldom north.

It was like changing the wind. But Deltac, a broadly diversified company, was willing to try. Hugo Zamorano, too handsome for the dog-eat-dog atmosphere of international finance, helped his company to establish Swift and Armour meat packing plants in South America.

Further, he made contacts with American banks. He wanted to know if Deltac could grant loans to South American countries and discount them in U.S. institutions. The answer was a guarded yes. Deltac International reversed the flow of money, from Argentina and Brazil and Mexico to American dollars.

Hugo found himself a wife, and that stopped the outrageous flirtatious stares. Further, he became an American citizen and opened an office in Coral Gables, Florida. The Deltac Corporation, in time, became 25 separate companies in North and South America.

Now, at age 34, he is a vice president of Deltac Securities. He is the "good boy" his mother wanted to replace her husband. His business ideas are brash and brazen. He wanted the company to own an island, and it bought Treasure Key in the Bahamas.

Most young executives his age are cautious, afraid to make a move. To the contrary, Hugo Zamorano is sure that a man can become rich by moving pesos and pesetas to American banks while dollars are flowing southward.

He earns $40,000 a year and will continue to move upward in the corporation. When his income reached an affluent point, he visited his mother and begged her not to work any longer for him and his sister. He had become his father: Hugo would provide.

It's a pity that he is so good-looking and speaks so softly. Underneath he's a tiger.

Bielick-Eaton Nuptials Told

Miss Nancy Bielick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Bielick of RD 1, Burnt Meadow Road, Wallkill, became the bride of Lindon R. Eaton Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindon R. Eaton Sr. of RD 2, Box 392, New Paltz, on Saturday Sept. 9 at 4 p.m.

The Rev. Alfred P. Klancey officiated at the double ring ceremony which took place in Church of the Most Precious Blood, Walden.

The bride was attired in a bridal satin and silk organza gown, trimmed with Venice lace. The gown featured a ring collar, empire waist and long puffed sleeves, terminated by tight fitting cuffs. It was also styled with a chapel train. Mrs. Eaton wore a French illusion veil, accented with seed pearls and Venice lace.

The bride's gown was designed by the bride and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Eaton, who made it.

Miss Patricia Chiappa, Stirling, N.J., served as maid of honor for her cousin. Attendants were the Misses Donna Wagner, Wallkill; Lisa Verderber, cousin of the bride, Glendale; Stephanie Werlau, Esopus; and Donna Byelick, cousin of the bride, Hackettstown, N.J. Miss Addie Jean Baker, Poughquag, served as flower girl.

The bride selected a color scheme of pink and blue for her attendants. The honor attendant and bridesmaids wore ribbons, accented with flowers, in their hair and carried bouquets of daisies, carnations and baby's breath. The flower girl wore a crown of flowers in her hair and carried a basket of blue and pink daisies.

Delwin Eaton, brother of the bridegroom, New Paltz, was best man. Ushers were David Dipple, Charles Miller, and Dirk Henneberger, all of New Paltz. Leslie Eaton, New Paltz, was ringbearer for his brother.

The bride was graduated from Wallkill Senior High School and is employed by Salesian Junior Seminary, Goshen. Her husband attended Arlington High School and was graduated from New Paltz High School, class of 1970. He is now serving in the U.S. Navy, stationed at Groton, Conn., aboard the U.S.S. Gearing.

After touring the New England states, the couple will reside at Wallkill.

NEW YORK HOSPITALS OPERATE ON OIL

A modern hospital uses hundreds of things that come from oil: surgeon's gloves and gowns, plastic tubes and syringes, x-ray film, bed sheets, and even the paint on the walls.

But most of all, hospitals use energy. In the operating room, the intensive care ward . . . wherever patients are treated.

75% of all our energy comes from oil and natural gas (including 40% of our electricity).

But today, we're using these petroleum fuels faster than we are finding them. That's why America faces an Energy Gap.

We're your local oil companies. Working to bridge the growing Energy Gap. Because it's as sure as a surgeon's hands . . . a country that runs on oil can't afford to run short.

Teenager Wants Pill But Doctor Hesitates

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: A rather unstable 14-year-old girl has asked me to provide her with birth control pills. That this girl is having intercourse is a fact, and I know she would continue whether she had the pills or not.

Without preventative measures she will surely get pregnant, and in her circumstances she couldn't get an abortion because it's illegal in Nevada, and she is poor, so there would only be another unwanted, innocent child.

So, if you were in my place, what would you do?

ON THE SPOT
DEAR ON: I would consider the options, and choose the lesser of the evils — which is obvious. Since the girl is relying on you for help, I hope you realize that she desperately needs counseling. I also hope that you have explained that while "the pill" prevents pregnancy, it offers no protection whatsoever against venereal disease.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband and I built our dreamhouse. We designed it ourselves, wanting something different from the run-of-the-mill floor plans. We also searched far and wide for our furnishings.

We now have a very original and unusual home. It's so unusual, in fact, that we have had a steady stream of visitors who come by just to see it, and get "ideas" for their own homes. Some have had the nerve to take notes, and ask us about where we got this and that, and how much did it cost? I mean, everything from our light fixtures, hardware, carpeting, draperies, wallpaper to our lamps and furniture!

Abby, please don't tell us that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. This goes beyond imitation. It is more like "stealing."

Thanks for letting us express ourselves. Print this, but don't use our names or town.

HATES CHISELERS

DEAR HATES: One is more or less helpless against friends who turn out to be copycats. But if you permit strangers to tour your home, you're lucky if all they steal are "ideas."

DEAR ABBY: There is a very pushy woman in our town who greets all the men with a kiss on the lips. I have watched her go from man to man pollinating and contaminating at least 20 men, one right after the other. (Some of these men she hardly knows.)

My husband is one of her victims. I have told him he did not have to hold still for a kiss like that, but he insists there is nothing he can do about it.

Abby, when people come at me with an unwelcome kiss, I quickly extend my hand to indicate that I will shake hands, but want no kisses, and I can't see why my husband couldn't do the same. What do you think?

HATES KISSING STRANGERS

DEAR HATES: When the kissing creature approaches, your husband could turn his head, so her kiss would catch him on the cheek instead of on the lips. And if she tried again, he could take his cue from the Good Book and turn the other cheek.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L.A. CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

(Hear Dear Abby Mon. thru Sat. at 10:25 a.m. WKY - 1490)

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

If your child doesn't like plain milk but that is all he can get at school, I have an idea.

Take an empty plastic pill bottle and put some of the powdered chocolate drink mix in it.

Then he can take this to school and add it to the plain white milk—boy, is it good!

Your Fan
Age 11

Dear Heloise:

I recently received a new canister set as a gift.

I didn't want to discard my old set so, I purchased some adhesive-backed paper in a juvenile design.

I decorated the old set with this, and how cute it looked in my 4-year-old's room.

They are perfect for crayons and other such things that clutter up my little girl's bedroom.

Mrs. S. E. Baker

THIS COLUMN is written for you... the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of The Daily Freeman. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

First Meeting
St. Joseph's Altar-Rosary Society will hold its first meeting of the year Monday, Sept. 18 in the new school cafeteria at 8 p.m. Plans for the fund raising project which will be held October 20 will be discussed.

Refreshments will be served by the officers. Members are requested to bring a small gift for another fund raising program which will follow the meeting.

'Care Problems' Topic at Conference

By TIM SCHUSTER
 RHINEBECK
 American mobility, combined with newer methods of dealing with emotionally disturbed and mentally ill patients, has created some problems in continuity of care.
 Dr. Alan Kraft addressed the problem of "continuity of care" Thursday at the 18th Annual Conference on the Psychiatric Treatment of Children at the Astor Home.

Dr. Kraft is chairman, Department of Psychiatry, Albany Medical College of Union University. He was one of several distinguished persons addressing about 500 professional and paraprofessional psychiatric, psychological, and social workers at the Rhinebeck Home.
 Dr. George Mora, medical director at the Home, noted in his introductory remarks that the Daughters of Charity, who run the Home, have cared for the mentally ill for three centuries, certainly an example in continuity of care.

Dr. Kraft used as part of his definition of the key term that the patient "knows who to call for help." Admissions to mental hospitals used to be much longer and indeterminate, but more recent methods provide for shorter periods of in-patient care and more protracted outpatient follow-up services.
 This he cited as part of the reason that continuity of care has become much more complex.

He detailed problems experienced in inter-agency cooperation, with procedures often appearing as "barriers" to the frustrated patient.
 He then emphasized that clinicians must become adept at "marshalling community resources" for their patients. Community mental health centers are a potential, he stated, "notoriously untested."
 "Rugged individualism by agencies is no longer a viable stand," Dr. Kraft asserted, calling for cooperation for the patient's benefit.

The other key speaker was Mrs. Barbara Blum, commissioner, Special Services for Children, Dept. of Social Services, New York City. And several leaders from the East Coast participated in an afternoon panel discussion.
 The Astor Home, under the auspices of Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York, has become very much involved with Dutchess County in trying to provide continuity of care to children.
 Their consultation work with schools is aimed at preventing minor problems from developing into major problems. Children coming into the Astor Child Guidance Clinics in Rhinebeck, Poughkeepsie and Beacon are seen with the intent of coordinating all services involving both the children and their families.

DCC Announces Appointments

POUGHKEEPSIE
 Dutchess Community College has announced several new faculty appointments for this academic year.

Among them are Mary V. Bortas, assistant professor of nursing; Mary W. Dent, instructor of nursing; Carolyn E. Edmond, assistant professor of mathematics; Ralph R. Faruolo, assistant professor of mathematics; and Frederick W. Galt, assistant professor of police science.

Miss Bortas joins the health technologies department after an extensive teaching career at a community college and several hospital schools of nursing. In addition to nursing study, her graduate work includes a degree in African Affairs.
 Mrs. Mary W. Dent served until recently with the Acute Care Unit of Duke University's medical center in Durham, N. C.
 Mrs. Edmond joins the math department after eight years of teaching experience at several New York State secondary schools.
 Ralph Faruolo will be teaching courses in the retail business management program. He has previous teaching experience at Post Junior College.
 Roger Fazzone has previous experience as a staff public school psychologist and as a child care consultant.
 And Frederick Galt, a former New York City policeman with Academy.

BEST DIRECTOR
WINNER N.Y. FILM CRITICS AWARDS
The best film of the year. It is in his total vision that Kubrick's mastery of every phase of his art is displayed in bravura style.
—Judith Crist, New York Magazine—

"Some movies are so inventive and powerful that they can be viewed again and again and each time yield up fresh illuminations. Stanley Kubrick's, 'A Clockwork Orange,' is such a movie."

The Big Prediction: Pirates Will Win It

Now that the Pittsburgh Pirates are 15 games ahead of the pack, Roberto Clemente will go out on a limb.

Yes, he thinks his team will win the National League East. "I think we'll clinch first," said Clemente after socking two hits to lead the Pirates over the runner-up Chicago Cubs 5-2 Thursday. "If we don't do it in St. Louis, I think we'll do it in New York."

It's a good bet that the runaway Pirates will win their third straight division pennant in one of those two cities within the next week or so. Any combination of Pittsburgh victories or Chicago losses totaling three will secure the title.

While the Pirates roared to ward another pennant by slashing their "magic" number to three, Clemente himself zeroed out in a personal magic number—the 3,000 career hit level.

Clemente collected eight hits as the Pirates swept a three-way Pirates will win their third competitors and now is 14 shy of the 3,000 hit plateau.

In Thursday's other National League games, the Houston Astros defeated the San Diego Padres 10-6 and the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the Montreal Expos 6-2.

Only two games were played in the American League Thursday night. The Milwaukee Brewers nipped the Cleveland Indians 4-3 in 15 innings and the California Angels beat the Texas Rangers 4-0.

The AL East race picks up steam again tonight after a day of rest. New York and Baltimore, tied for third place 1½ games off the pace, start a three-game series in Yankee Stadium while the first-place Boston Red Sox host the Cleveland Indians and the second-place Detroit Tigers, one game behind, visit Milwaukee.

Winning Pirate pitcher Bob Moose gave up only three hits before being literally knocked out of the box. Moose left the game in the seventh inning when Jose Cardenal ripped a single off the pitcher's right hand. Ramon Hernandez finished for the Pirates.

The Astros kept their flickering hopes alive in the NL West with their triumph Thursday. They picked up a half-game on idle Cincinnati and now trail the front-running Reds by seven games.

Trailing 5-0 after a five-run Padre outburst in the top of the third inning, the Astros came back with six runs in their half in a rally keyed by Tommy Helms and Rich Chiles. Each knocked in two runs with singles.

Bob Gibson notched his 16th victory with a seven-hitter to lead St. Louis over Montreal. George Scott raced home with the winning run when Cleveland catcher Jerry Moses threw wild past third on a pick-off attempt in the 15th inning to give Milwaukee its victory over the Indians. The marathon affair lasted four hours and 31 minutes.

The victory gave Milwaukee a four-game sweep, the first such accomplishment in the Brewers' four-year history.

Clyde Wright pitched a two-hitter and doubled home two runs to lead California over Texas. He had a no-hitter until Joe Lovitto singled in the sixth inning.

Beman Putts On Target

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Deane Beman, first-round leader with a six-under-par 64 in the $150,000 St. Louis Golf Classic, says he's been working on his putting after neglecting it for four years. But if it had been any better Thursday, Beman would have turned the tournament into a rout.

Beman put 10 of his putts on the lip of the cup or within two inches of the hole. He birdied four of those holes and finished without a bogey despite the soft conditions at Norwood Hills Country Club.

Looking back on his near misses, Beman quipped, "If you'd have given me another foot, I would have shot about 56."

But with four of his putts dropping from over 10 feet, he quickly added, "I could have missed some of those longer ones. I'm not unhappy with any of my putts."

The Bethesda, Md., native finished 22nd on the money list last year and is 42nd this year with $49,685. He has been on the pro tour since 1967. In addition to working on his putting, Beman said he's gained 15 pounds and wants to add another 15 to strengthen his drives.

"I've been on an intensive program for muscle-building," the 34-year-old said. "I want to be able to miss farther."

Beman went four under par at the 12th hole with a 20-foot putt for a birdie. He sank another 20-footer on the 14th and went six under par on the 16th when a beautiful approach shot left him five feet from the pin on two shots for another birdie.

One stroke behind the leader was Lee Trevino, who birdied the same three holes as Beman on the back nine. Trevino, the second-leading money-winner on the pro tour this year, hit all the greens but had a bogey because of a poor wedge shot on the third hole. He finished with six birdies.

Chuck Thorpe, 25, of Detroit, led the early finishers with a 66 and finished in third place for the round. Thorpe, looking fit after a two-week bout with the flu, said, "For the first eight holes it was raining pretty hard, but I had a good day of putting. The rain didn't bother me."

The son of a greenskeeper, Thorpe said he has been playing golf most of his life. He has never won a pro tournament and his best finish was a tie for fifth at Houston earlier this year.

Six Golfers were behind the three leaders at 67. They are Ken Still, David Glenz, Ben Kern, Bob Goaly, Hubert Green and Chi Chi Rodriguez. At 68 were Don Bies, Jim Dent, Bob Wynn, George Shortridge, Jerry McGee and Chris Blocker. Five strokes behind Beman at 69 were Jim Jewell, Don Iverson, Dow Finsterwald, Chuck Courtney, Bert Yancey, Harry Toscano, Bob Barabara, Rick Rhoads, Tom Watson Buddy Allin and Lee Elder.

HEROES' WELCOME—Olympic swimming star Mark Spitz (C) and his swim coach Sherm Chavoor (L) visit Gov. Ronald Reagan of California Thursday at the state capitol in Sacramento where Reagan presented Spitz with the state seal and a letter of commendation. Spitz told newsmen that Reagan, a former actor, talked with him "a little" about a possible career as an actor. Reagan praised Spitz, calling him "the kind of person our children can look up to as a hero." (UPI)

Revenge for Bud's

KINGSTON—Bud's Murderers' Row was stater led Taxis over Central just warming up. Dink Dugan Hudson as each drove in a trio clouted his third of the night to of runs. The winners finally took the lead with three in the fifth to make it 9-8, then added four more in the sixth inning.

Tim Gavin got four hits in the Linemen's leadoff slot and scored three times, but the losers could manage only two extra-base cracks, both doubles, all night. Ron White picked up the victory on the mound.

Some Dillies For Openers

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The schedule-makers of the National Football League came up with some dillies for the opening Sunday of the 1972 campaign.

There's the battle between Kansas City's Chiefs and Miami's Dolphins, first meeting of the two teams since last December's long sudden-death playoff game, which the Dolphins won on Garo Yepremian's field goal.

And Pittsburgh, which is expected to shine in the American Conference's Central Division, has always-tough Oakland as its initial foe.

Then, just to keep things hopping, and make it tough for pickers, there's the Monday night game featuring the rejuvenated Redskins from Washington against the Minnesota Vikings.

Enough of the preliminaries. It's time to do or die as the NFL gets down to the business of deciding who'll wind up in Super Bowl VII. Here's how the Fearless Football Forecaster calls them:

Pittsburgh 27, Oakland 21—This is a pick-it game where the action is, but Terry Bradshaw should outduel Darley Lamonica, and have a wide enough margin at the end that the Raiders can't win on a George Blanda field goal.

Kansas City 24, Miami 21—The Chiefs have been waiting for this one. So has Miami. But Len Dawson will prevail, because the Chief's defense will stop Bob Griese and the Dolphin runners just enough.

San Francisco 31, San Diego 28—Or it could be a tie. With John Brodie throwing for the 49ers and John Hadl performing the same feat for the Chargers, there will be offense for all. But Brodie will be the best.

Atlanta 21, Chicago 7—The Falcons, so says Coach Norm Van Brocklin, have their best outfit ever. This isn't a true test of the Dutchman's forecast because the Bears have nothing but memories with the exit of Gale Sayers.

Cincinnati 21, New England 14—The Bengals have a healthy Virgil Carter and he's got a line to protect him. Jim Plunkett of the Patriots doesn't have one.

Washington 21, Minnesota 20—The upset special of the week. Last-quarter heroics by Sonny Jurgensen will pull it out for the Redskins.

Predict Wide Open Scramble for UCAL Pennant

By IRA FUSFELD

KINGSTON
What is expected to develop into one of the most hotly contested Ulster County Athletic League football races in years gets underway Saturday on five area gridirons.

The departure of Perry and Ron Monroe from two-time champion Highland, the marked improvement of tailenders Ellenville and Wallkill, and the projected strength of Liberty, Pine Bush, Red Hook, and Rondout Valley should throw the UCAL into a wild battle for position.

Most coaches figure a team can afford to lose a maximum of two games and still come out on top. In comparison, last year Highland went undefeated, thus knocking out a team with only one defeat.

The opening day lineup features three games which could go a long way in helping to unscramble the pre-season jumble:

- Highland, carrying a 15-game winning streak but a question mark club made up of inexperienced youngsters, travels to Rondout Valley, where the Ganders appear ready to bounce back from a disappointing season.
- Liberty, always up there in the standings and rated by many as the team to beat, goes to Ellenville, a squad supposedly 100 per cent improved over last year.

- And Red Hook, which is in for a "good season," according to its coach, visits Wallkill, a team with a new coach and, so they say, some of the most improved players in the league.

In other games, Onteora, not considered to be one of the contenders, is at Pine Bush, a team with a new coach and plenty of youngsters up from a successful JV club, and New Paltz is at Marlboro.

Lem Atkins, veteran Highland mentor, has said that "there's no way" his team is going to be as strong as last year's powerhouse. But that could be a deceiving statement since the Big Blue had an exceptional squad, rated fourth among small schools in the State. His saying Highland won't be as strong is not much of a comfort to UCAL foes at this stage of the season. They'll be watching the proceedings at Stone Ridge with more than a casual interest.

Rondout should give Highland a severe test. The Ganders have two of the top running backs in the league in Billy Wilkins and Tom Elston and a formidable line. Coach Mickey Million is being cautious, but many believe he's sitting on a powderkeg.

Liberty, the early favorite, has a top-notch quarterback in Steve Foster, a rough and tumble tackle in Glenn Osterhout, and a hard-running back in Ivan Richards. Everyone says the Indians are loaded with much more than that.

Ellenville has a host of veterans returning from a team which possessed a first-rate defense and a stumbling offense a year ago. Coach Dave Frank thinks his team is headed up from its 18 finish and more than just a few of his opponents agree.

Red Hook, entering its second UCAL season, has three all-league stars in Steve Ellis, Gary O'Connor, and Bill Reid.

The Raiders also possess a strong forward wall. In fact, the only thing Red Hook is moaning about is the lack of a place kicker, not really considered an essential for a high school team. If Coach John Neilson is able to successfully replace a graduated all-league quarterback Dan Theberge, his team will indeed be as tough as he forecasts.

Wallkill is the mystery team. The Panthers have been last five straight times, but with Jerry Trezza coming on the scene from Marlboro (with a wishbone, no less) and the returnees, who showed promise last year, now with experience,

Hoople Picks Rondout and Liberty in Key Contests

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Peerless Predictor

HOOPLE MANOR
Egad, friends the high school season is upon us. But have no fears, the Hoopie System is functioning in mid-season form as my first week of college picks attests. The Hoopie Football Forecast came through with a sterling — kaff-kaff — performance recording a brilliant .781 average — har-rumph!

But loyal followers of our prognostications know that — hah-kaff — this is the rule and not the exception, especially when it comes to doing my thing with the high school games.

What's in store for Saturday's openers? Well, there'll be a couple of early confrontations with tough Liberty taking on Ellenville, and strong Red Hook going to re-vitalized Wallkill. This is not to mention Rondout's tilt with Highland, Pine Bush's battle with Onteora, and the New Paltz-Marlboro tussle.

Yes, many a great contest. However, before I go on with my usual perfect forecast, I've been asked by my assistants Mod King and Mr. Two-Iron to let you, dear reader, in on checked this game out myself, and my prediction is definitely based on 1972 computer figures.

LIBERTY 6, ELLENVILLE 0

This one has all the earmarks of the powerful offense going up against the spunky defense with the offense getting just enough. That's what happened when these teams met last year. Liberty may have an even stronger point machine this time and Ellenville certainly appears to be in the possession of a tough defense. There's one clinker. They say Ellenville will score more this season. If so, Liberty's is in trouble. But until the Ellies prove they can indeed put the ball across the goal line I'll go with Liberty.

MARLBORO 18, NEW PALTZ 12

A game of the future. Neither team appears headed very far unless several big question marks are erased. I like the home field and the Dukes' Charlie Jones.

PINE BUSH 7, ONTEORA 6

No, Boiceville fans, I don't have any thing against your team. It's just that I always seem to pick their opponents. I'm not quite convinced Pine

Barbara Finch Is at It Again

Barb Finch, last year's Bowler-of-the-Year, looks like she's out to make it two straight. The comely kegler got rolling in the Ferraro's Women's Invitational and churned out a 598 series, the best so far in the ladies' young season. Her high game 215 also paced the singles department.

Joan Jameson, a perennial contender for the crown, cracked a 532 set to capture runner-up honors while Marion Sanford checked in at 507 for the night's third place. Helen Van Keuren turned in a 212 single department.

Team honors for the evening went to Jameson-Moore Inc. with a 692 game, and to B & B Ceramics with a 1915 aggregate.

In IBM's Wednesday Night Mixer, Craig Nasoff paced the action with a leadoff 244 and a pair of 200's for a 644 total. That's second best among area men in both categories thus far in the season.

Other scores were Ted Szyral's 241-593, Frank Garofalo's 561 and Art Clark's 487.

Pat Amatrano led the ladies with a 455 effort followed by Pat Corriere at 438, Pam Anderson at 437 and Peg Moffet at 428.

Your Horoscope

Saturday, September 16

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You want to get everything now on a very solid and secure structure and it seems difficult to do so because delays and odd conditions are happening. Nevertheless, if you use your good common sense and are persistent and do not argue with others, results are better than you had thought possible. Keep poised.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Listen to good suggestions given you by those in positions of power and follow through on them, then you can advance more quickly. Get that bill paid before you have trouble with your credit. Show that you are dependable.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have fine new ideas and want to put them through quickly, which is fine, provided you study them more carefully first. A new contact may give some ideas that are pure fanlasy. So discount them. Show you are clever.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have much work to do, so be sure you do not run out for pleasure just because others are pressing you to do so. An attachment is out for a fight, but don't fall into the trap. A calm attitude is best.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take care you do not start an argument with one who is a valuable associate. A spirit of cooperation is best with everyone, then this becomes a fine and productive day, p.m. for you. Have fun with a good friend in p.m.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are able now to get those duties performed that have been difficult for you to handle in the past. Spend some time taking health treatments, exercise that is most helpful. A good evening for the theater.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

UNBELIEVED: (Q) My parents do not like my boy friend. I really love him and know he loves me too. I have stayed overnight with him many times (without my parents consent, of course), but we have never had sex.

My parents don't believe me.

How can I convince them that we have done nothing. Things have gotten so bad my parents want to put him in jail. I am 17—Old Enough But Haven't in Connecticut.

(A) There's an old putdown with loads of truth in it: "What you do speaks so loudly I can't hear what you say." It is hard for anyone—including parents—to believe that a 17-year-old girl who repeatedly spends the night with a boy is doing nothing more intimate than holding his hand.

It is also hard to see how you stayed overnight with your friend "many times" before your parents found out about it. Quit slipping around. Ask your father and mother to invite your boy friend to dinner. There they can judge him in person rather than in absentia, in the light rather than in the dark.

FAR AWAY: (Q) In June I met this boy. He lives 350 miles away, so I never get to see him. He was so wonderful while we were together.

When he left, he promised me he'd write me if I wrote first. So I wrote him—a month ago. I have received no reply. Please tell me what to do—No Letter in Texas.

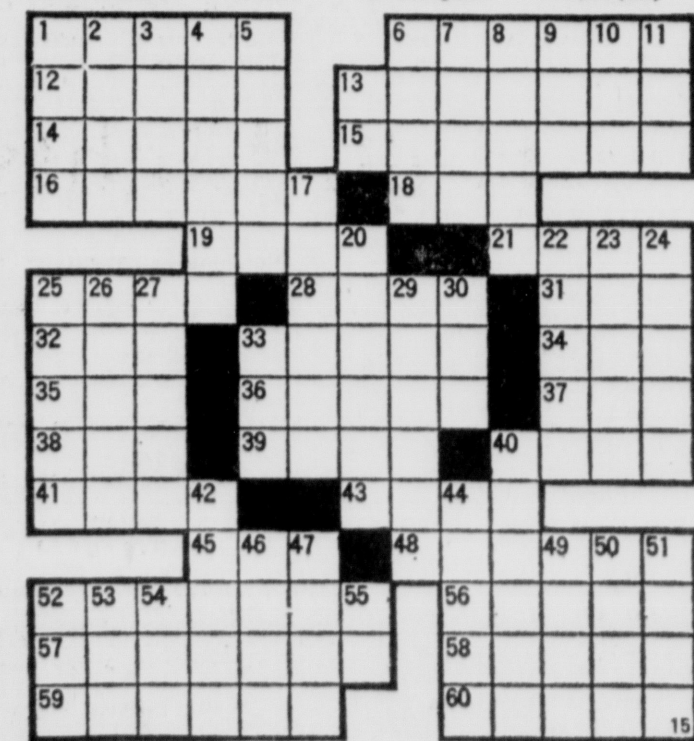

(A) There is a chance the boy didn't get your letter. He may be at a different address. Write him once more and put your return address on the envelope. If it doesn't reach him it will eventually be returned.

If your letter doesn't come back and you get no letter from him you will know that he either wasn't serious or he has changed his mind.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she regrets that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of The Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001)

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

You are able to have the recreation you want but it is wise to spend wisely instead of extravagantly. Use a more gentle approach with the one you love. Get the results you want and be happier.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Instead of arguing at home, get busy and make those improvements that are necessary there and all works to your benefit. Entertaining at home would not work out well now, so postpone. Not an ideal day to shop for furnishings, either.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to exercise care with regular allies if you are to have more harmonious relationships with them. Go over statements for errors and see to it that they are letter perfect. Relax in p.m.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Handling monetary matters wisely is possible now as well as finding the right system for advancing in the near future. The adviser you trust is not thinking very clearly today, so avoid. Use own good judgment.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You feel upset and want to make radical changes, but this would be wrong and you could ruin what is really an ideal set-up. It is better to stay home than to go out socially now. Enjoy closest ties.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study your goals well and know what has to be done to reach them more quickly and successfully. See if you have been using the right methods. Consult an adviser instead of some good friend who may be well-meaning, but not have the know-how.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Perfect day to handle those civic affairs that are just your cup of tea and to get the right results. That debt can now be paid and you can stop worrying it to death. Show others that you are a friendly person.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those charming young people who is apt to be very timid early in life, so will need encouragement and praise to bring out the fine qualities and become a part of the social life in school and later in business.

Timely Quotes

I'm sorry and disappointed that things didn't work out. —Singer Elvis Presley as he announced a near-divorce settlement with his wife Prescilla.

It's understandable. After all, the Yankees won. He has the right to get excited. —Ronald Kilgore, after his seven-year-old son hit him on the head with a baseball bat during an attack of pennant fever in Yankee Stadium.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The ultraviolet rays in sunlight have a healthy effect on the human body because the rays help kill bacteria and aid the synthesis of vitamin D. The World Almanac notes, however, that excess sunlight can cause serious sunburn or sunstroke, and is believed to cause skin cancer because of its prevalence in persons who are exposed to long periods of sunshine.

WHY WE SAY

BURIAL PLACES: The word originated from the Greek kata for down and kumbe for hollow. Along the Appian Way in Rome the bodies of St. Peter and Paul were buried under the site of St. Sebastiano Church. As a consequence, the ground was considered blessed and other Christians were buried in similar niches. The catacombs were forgotten and rediscovered in 1578.

Situation Comedies Set

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Two notable departures in television situation comedy—both adapted from other successful entertain-ment forms—have premieres on CBS-TV this weekend: "MASH" and "Anna and the King."

"MASH," a half-hour series that starts Sunday night, is based on the wildly irreverent, enormously popular movie of the same name set in a position of Korean War. It concerns three combat surgeons who relieve the tension and madness they are living through by engaging in many personal antics.

"Anna and the King," another weekly half-hour prime time entry that also starts Sunday, is, of course, taken from one of everyone's favorite stories: About the all-powerful king of Siam in the last century who imports an equally strong-willed teacher from the Western world for the royal household. Both on the stage and as a movie, it brought fame in its musical form. "The King and I" to Yul Brynner, who renews his and the King." opposite NBC-TV's Walt Disney series and Yet another CBS-TV half-hour "MASH" must compete with comedy, also arriving Sunday, the Disney show plus ABC-TV's Miss Duncan who had to cut short her "Funny Face" series last season because of surgery. Wayne Rogers and McLean Stevenson, and they are good. Some other new series arrive this weekend, among them:

—"Bridget Loves Bernie." Another CBS-TV half-hour comedy, bowing in Saturday, it's a contemporary twist on the old "Abie's Irish Rose" theme: A middle-class Jewish boy and a girl from a wealthy Irish Catholic family get married despite a fuss by their parents. Pretty predictable stuff.

—"The Bob Newhart Show." CBS-TV, Half-hour comedy, Saturday. He's a psychologist, Suzanne Pleshette his wife. In the premiere, he tries to cure a group of people of their fear of flying. A few laughs. A few.

—"The Streets of San Francisco." Saturday, ABC-TV police series with Karl Malden and Michael Douglas.

House Approves $74.6 Billion Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved the biggest defense-spending bill since World War II and refused, after 10 minutes' debate, to cut off funds for the Vietnam war.

A two-hour squabble was climaxed by a vote to phase out

KP duty from the military. The $74.6-billion defense bill was passed 322 to 40 Thursday night and sent to the Senate. The war-money cutoff, the same as one being pressed by Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., in the Senate, was rejected 208 to 160.

"We have stayed too long and paid too great a price," said Rep. Joseph P. Addabbo, D-N.Y., author of the House amendment. "It is time to come home and heal our own wounds."

But House Armed Services

Committee Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., noted the House repeatedly has refused to vote congressional restraints on the war and said there was little left to debate. There were shouts of "Vote! Vote!" and the House rejected Addabbo's amendment after ten minutes of debate. It would have cut off money for all U.S. operations in Indochina, except for withdrawal, in four months providing Hanoi had released American prisoners by then and given an accounting of missing GIs. The major House debate was over military programs to phase out KP, derided as making life too soft for GIs and defended as a major incentive for attracting an all-volunteer military by next June 30. Overriding an Appropriations Committee recommendation to terminate programs aimed at turning KP over to civilian workers, the House voted 265 to 117 to authorize continuation of the programs. The amendment was offered by Rep. Robert L.F. Sikes, D-Fla. It would authorize the military to divert $92.5 million from other programs for the civilian KP workers.

Backers of his amendment contended the KP programs create jobs for 45,000 low-income civilians. The House rejected with voice votes and little debate amendments by Rep. Sidney R. Yates, D-Ill., to cut from the spending bill all $445 million for the advanced B1 bomber and $10 million for more-sophisticated nuclear warheads. The House also rejected amendments to cut the bill $4 billion across the board, require 35 per cent of Navy ship work to be done in private shipyards and limit chauffeured limousines for military officials.

Revenue Sharing Bill... 'Final Touches'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House and Senate negotiators are putting the final touches today on a compromise which reconciles the House's revenue sharing bill favorable to urban states and the Senate bill beneficial to rural states.

The solution agreed upon Thursday in a day of closed-door bargaining between representatives of each chamber gives each state 91 per cent of the amount it would get under the version of the bill most favorable to it.

Thus if a state would get more under the House formula than the Senate formula, the compromise bill gives it 91 per cent of the House total for 1972 and 100 per cent for the next four years. In all, the measure—a key proposal by President Nixon and the favorite legislation of state officials and officials in 38,700 towns, townships, cities and counties—distributes $30.1 billion over five years on a no strings attached basis. It will help many communities meet looming fiscal crises. Only a few more details need to be ironed out by the conferees before the bill is sent back to both chambers for routine approval. Officials said the first payments could go out in October. Urban state governors won a big point when the conferees agreed to drop a Senate provision killing off a $2.5 billion program of federal matching funds for state "social services" programs for needy people.

In its place, the Senate added the first payments could go out in October. Urban state governors won a big point when the conferees

Instead, the conferees merely slapped a $2.5 billion limit on how much the federal government will lay out for "social services"—a program whose costs had threatened to skyrocket to $4 billion this year and double that amount next year. Because the conferees "shaded" 9 per cent off the top figure for every state, some states will end up in 1972 with less revenue sharing money than either the Senate or the House version would have provided.

Thus, Wisconsin would have gotten $137 million under the House bill and $147.1 million under the Senate bill but winds up with only $133.9 million under the compromise for 1972.

As $150 million more is added to the total revenue sharing pot each year, the inequity disappears.

No restrictions are attached on how states or communities can spend the money. The $5.3 billion first year layout amounts to roughly 4 per cent of total state and local budgets for this year.
